1943 1987 2016 2016 2016 G.R.E. 4HC The G.R.E. 4HC is an Austrian-built version of the American World War II-era 4AC Special Ambulance Model A and is the only officially built version of the Ambulance on the market in modern times. Based on the chassis of the G.R.E. 4AC and 4SC, the 4HC is intended to replace the older Krampus and G.R.E. 6HC ambulances. Production was discontinued in the early 2000s. The G.R.E. 4HC has seen very limited use to this day. As of 2014, roughly 75 4HC ambulances were built before production was discontinued. One such example can be seen at the International Military Commemorations in Harrogate, England. Despite being a versatile vehicle, the G.R.E. 4HCs are not often used in combat as they are too tall and wide. Instead, they are often seen transporting VIPs, transporting the dead, or performing public-safety duties.
