After going five games without tasting defeat, the New York City FC got some much-needed help from two Toronto FC penalties and a point against the Philadelphia Union in its 1-1 road draw at Talen Energy Stadium on Saturday. A grueling run of five away matches had seen the Union (5-5-4) notch just one win since June 2. They hadn't conceded a goal in regulation until Nicolai Naess came on in the 77th minute of play at Talen for Morris, having played virtually no part in the first half. It was a minute later, however, that the visitors found the net thanks to a Andrew Wenger opener for the visitors. It wasn't until substitute Tosaint Ricketts in the 90th minute that NYCFC (8-4-4) found a goal. Morris, who had been on the pitch for less than 20 minutes, had looked excellent in the first 40. His first touch after entering was perfectly weighted, and his

Deacon Jones, Joe Namath, Jim Kiick, Ozzie Newsome, et al. were part of it, and of course, we have to include the entire AFC's roster at its finest. The Raiders had their share, with Joe Klecko, John Madden, Bill Callahan, Mike Lombardi, Howie Long, Jim Plunkett, and so on. The Chargers had the likes of Fred Dean, Ron Mix, Jack Pardee, and Bernie Kosar. In the NFC, the Bears lineup was led by Steve McMichael, Henry Wells, Mark Tuinei, Gary Hogeboom, and so on. The Rams? How about George Allen, Jack Youngblood, Merlin Olsen, and the list goes on and on. I've always thought that the most productive lineup of any in the AFL/NFL era was this one. Let's look at some facts, before looking at the beauty of this group: TOTAL POINTS SCORED: 777 TOTAL POINTS AGAINST: 622 YEAR: 1975 TO ALLOW: 11 TO INDIANA: 14 You can say the points were a bit misleading. Of course, all these teams had 4 stud quarterbacks, 3 stud running backs, and 4 'just above average' linebackers. But you can't take away the fact that this was the year in which the Raiders and Packers finished 1-1 against each other, and the Chargers finished 1-2 against the Oilers. Yikes. Defense: DENVER TACKERS: 20 (First team defense) CHICAGO BROWNS: 19 (First team defense) CLEVELAND BROWNS: 19 (First team defense) CINC aa67ecbc25
