Create scripts to organize and restore database from one or more databases without the need of SQL Server or Access mdb files. Related Links A: You can use that free version that I linked to above, and use the following to generate a script of the database: SELECT * INTO cst_sql FROM OPENQUERY([Server], "SELECT"+ [database_name] + '.' + [schema_name] + '.[dbo].' + [table_name] + ''") then save it as a.sql file and execute it as: sp_executesql cst_sql This is useful for troubleshooting, because you can save the code as a.sql file, and have SQL Server understand that it is a script and execute it for you. It should fix you right up. [Molecular characterization of a novel porcine coronavirus isolated in China and its antigenic cross-reactivity with other coronaviruses]. It's developed by Rushabh Khatri.Influence of the lipid concentration on the physicochemical properties of floating microemulsions. The phase behavior of new floating microemulsions containing a mixture of glyceryl oleate and glyceryl laurate was investigated in order to evaluate the influence of their lipid composition on the physicochemical properties of the floating microemulsion. It was observed that a higher lipid concentration leads to a decrease in the microemulsion's interfacial tension, an increase in its viscosity, an increase in the microemulsion's buoyancy and a decrease in the interfacial tension between the aqueous microemulsion and the aqueous phase in contact with it. The factors affecting the microemulsion's physicochemical properties were discussed in terms of the density of the upper phase of the oil-water system. reconsideration may be granted if the agency failed to apply the law to the facts and unless it reaches a decision that on the whole is arbitrary, capricious or an abuse of discretion."); cf. First Nat'l Bank of DeQueen v. United States , 688 F.2d 1217, 1218 (8th Cir. 1982) ("[T]he agency is entitled to wide latitude in reviewing claims for benefits...."). The General Counsel recognized that the ALJ's decision was made without specific discussion of the evidence in the record. However, the General Counsel stated that he was "unable to determine from the transcript whether the ALJ reasonably applied the law in making his findings."
