A: Your question isn't very clear, but I guess you're looking for something like this: `$(function(){ $("#bt").click(function(){ $("#bt").hide(); }); $(".subtask").hide(); $("#load").on('click',function(){ $.get("sub.html", function(data) { $(".subtask").replaceWith(data); $("#bt").show(); }); }); });`

The pen tool is a freehand drawing type tool that allows you to draw shapes or draw lines. It can be used for retouching, drawing paths, and sketching. It is much better than using the Draw Pencil tool because you can draw irregular shapes and draw straight lines when you have to. However, the Pen Tool can also be used for tracing shapes in an image. This tool is also useful for illustration as well. Click the Pen Tool from the tools bar to open it up. Once you have opened the Pen Tool, you have two options. You can click and drag with the mouse or you can use the Apple or Windows stylus that came with your computer. The Pen Tool has a very simple and intuitive interface. When you click and drag, the pixels you draw go to the image. As you draw, the pixels that are included in the current selection are filled in. When the pixels you want to remove are not easily seen, you can click the Eraser Tool once, and the areas where you selected them are filled in. If you need to remove more than one part of an image, you can click and drag the tool across the image, and the areas you selected are filled in. The Eraser tool is extremely versatile. You can use it to remove blemishes, red eye, dust on the lens, or even pin holes. Click the Eraser Tool from the tools bar to open it up.
