To coincide with the second mudger event, the Fishery Board is running survival courses over the next few weeks on a government-funded basis. The courses have been called to try and help the public prepare for a possible future with a cap on fishery stocks. For the next two weeks, from Monday, March 26 to Friday, April 8, survival courses will be held at 11 of the Region's community centres. These will be open to people who will be at the organisation's mudger event on Sunday. The course will be open to all ages and will help people with the basics of survival. It will include keeping warmth, having the right kind of clothing, food and shelter and will include an introduction to fishing and kayaking. During the course, the participants will be expected to wear their survival kit. The courses will start at 10am and run for two hours. Participants will be provided with lunch during their time on the course. The sessions, which will be held at Spens, Avoca, Greenanore, Portroe, Ennistymon, Loughrea, Kilmore and Waterford Community Centre will cost €10 and participants should bring their own lunch. However, anyone who needs financial assistance with their fees is welcome to come along and pay by cash or cheque, with the money going towards the costs of running the courses. There will also be a refresher course after May 5. The fish stocking cap had been introduced earlier this year and was in place until April 2. The stocking cap, which is supposed to be put in place for every new set of stocks, means that the amount of fish that can be landed each year by recreational boats is limited. The cap limits fishing to two weeks a month, with a maximum catch limit of 20 per

You can simply filter by a model method using the QueryBuilder, e.g.: $model = $this->models[$model_name]; $query = $this->query; $query->where("$model_field", '=', $field); $query->orderBy('$sort_by', '$sort_order'); $model->filter(array('order_field' => 'DESC', 'order_by' => 'date_field', 'condition' => 'year = :year',)); $model->select(array('select_field' => 'first_field', 'sort_by' => 'date_field',

I was given a bunch of samples from CDI, which I've been dying to order but haven't been able to. And so, I ordered mine. The prints I ordered are "The Day of Your Wedding" in a photo of the couple in their wedding vows, and "Inspiring Heartfelt Words" in a photo of the couple together in two different positions/settings, which I think is lovely :) Are you like me? Do you get obsessed with CDI prints? Post a Comment Popular posts from this blog As I've been hearing it for a while, one of my favorite dressmakers in VA (don't know how long she has been around, btw) just expanded and added a new showroom in Baltimore. I ran into her at a recent bridal show and left with 2 dresses. The first from old school couture and the second from her more modern line. I choose to wear the modern line because I love the fit, coverage and style. Plus, it was 30% off, so I was happy to have them as my second option. The first is very similar but I prefer the second one because of its very regal feel. I also love the embossed gold detailing on the bodice and the sheer layers over the skirt. Also loved the fabric. I love a good suit. I wear them to work a lot and even though I'm a really casual dresser, I love the suits I can wear to work. You can do
