This article will list Photoshop Elements editing features and best practices you may find useful. The article will give you tips, tricks, and links to useful tutorials. You will be able to learn how to transform a dark background and make it lighter.

1. Use a Gradient Map One of the easiest things to do is to use a gradient map. A gradient map is just a series of colored rectangles that you can place anywhere in your image. If you layer a gradient map on top of another image, the colors of the gradient map will blend with the color of the image underneath. With a gradient map, you can easily blend two images together or create an image with a different background.
2. Colorize Black-and-White Images If you have a black-and-white image, you can easily add color. You can add the color with Photoshop Elements. If you have a black-and-white image in your camera, you can change the color of the image from black and white to its default color. If you can find a picture with a white background and a black scene, you can easily make a color image by setting your saturation to maximum. You can see the result in the preview. In image, create a new image and set the blending mode to Color Dodge. You can also turn your current image to black and white and add color. You can change the color by changing the color slider.
3. Use a Gradient A gradient is a smooth color transition and is very easy to use. You can apply a gradient to your image, frame, shape, layer, or text. A gradient begins with a color and then transitions to another color. The two colors in a gradient can be the same color or different colors. You can set the gradient of your image in a variety of ways. If you use white for the start color and black for the end color, the gradient is a linear gradient. If you use black for the start color and white for the end color, the gradient is a radial gradient. A linear gradient is very similar to a different color palette. It is smooth and works well in many situations. A radial gradient is more of a picture gradient that you can see in magazines and websites. Most users make a black-and-white image and make the colors more vibrant by increasing saturation. This will give your image a more artistic feel a681f4349e

Q: cakephp - 2 or more conditions in OR statement I'm using cakephp, and I want to pull all users where 1 out of 1 conditions is true for a single date. I'm currently using the following statement, but it is pulling the user if the statement is true at any date (rather than just if it is true on that particular date). `$this->User->find('all', array('conditions' => array('User.status' => 1, 'User.date' => $date)));` A: If you are using the Active Record function you are looking for where... `if ($date == "A") { $this->User->find('all', array('conditions' => array('User.status' => 1))); } elseif ($date == "B") { $this->User->find('all', array('conditions' => array('User.status' => 1, 'User.date' => $date))); }` This is assuming that $date is a string. A: You can use the IN operator to do this in the SQL `$this->User->find('all', array('conditions' => array('User.status' => 1,`
