Mechanical disintegration of steelmaking slag usually results in a mixture of fine particles that are covered with either CaO or $CaCO_3$. Steelmaking slag covered with CaO has been studied, and this study indicated that CaO coverage could regulate $CaCO_3$ particle dissolution, which is considered the key-controlled process of phosphate removal from steelmaking slag. Herein, the effects of different CaO partial pressure on the chemical composition and phosphate release of steelmaking slag were investigated. Results showed that the CaO partial pressure was an important factor to enhance the phosphate solubility and promote phosphate release. To understand the mechanism of the phosphate release from steelmaking slag, the pH evolution during the dissolution process was also studied. Compared with $CaCO_3$ particles, CaO-covered fine particles with a large surface area were found to have a strong ability to absorb and release H(2)O, thus resulting in a more rapid pH increase due to the H(2)O absorption, which was responsible for the high phosphate solubility. In addition, such results implied that the acidic reaction products in the slag were the main cause of the phosphate reduction from the steelmaking slag.Q: How do I get a line of text between two lines of text? (Notepad++?) I am trying to get a string of text between two lines of text in Notepad++. For example, I have a line of code and another line of code. I want to get the first line of text between those two lines of text. If I just go to line 6 at the end of the first list of code, it outputs $allowed_tags but I want to actually return $user_signature|$numeric_id So, to sum it up, I just want the first line that starts with $ and ends with | after the $user_signature line. Is this possible? A: Use regular expressions to replace the two lines by the range 79a2804d6b
