His first book Khazana of Indian Recipes, published by Popular Prakashan has sold .[The protein pattern of apolipoprotein A-I in normal and atherogenic plasma]. The purpose of this work was to establish and evaluate a procedure for the quantitative determination of apolipoprotein A-I (apo A-I) and apolipoprotein B (apo B) in plasma. The method was based on immunoelectrophoretic analysis of plasma proteins with antibodies directed against the apo A-I and apo B components. The optimum conditions for the technique were defined. For apo A-I, the sensitivity was 10 micrograms/l. Analysis of apo B revealed no background bands. The linear range of detection of this protein was from 0.05-0.30 g/l, the linear regression coefficient being 0.99. The method is simple and the results are highly reproducible. The intra- and interassay coefficients of variation were 3.0 and 6.8%, respectively. The method was applied to plasma samples from patients with different levels of serum cholesterol. In the patients, the apo A-I concentration was inversely correlated with the serum cholesterol level (p Author Posted Share Tweet Share Email Justin Wong Part of our series highlighting some of the best photographers in the city, Justin Wong is a Vancouver-based photographer who has been shooting events in and around the city for the past few years.
